Clinique Acne Solution Stick ($14; clinique.com)
Neutrogena Skin Clearing ($8; at drugstores); both pore-cleansing salicylic

How to apply Since blemishes are blatantly red (and therefore hard to hide), get a head start by massaging a thin layer of moisturizer or oil-free concealer. Let it set for a few minutes, then dab concealer over your pimple with a clean brush. We like TREATMENT CONCEALER won't clog pores and trigger new breakouts.

($22; beauty.com) If you're using a pencil concealer, lightly "draw" each bump, then tap a clean fingertip on the top of the concealer to help it blend with your skin. Finish by dusting on a translucent powder, such as Almay want slightly more coverage, pick a cream-formula foundation that can be built up by layering, like MAC Studio Tech ($29; maccosmetics.com).

MINERAL FOUNDATION in a liquid form spreads better over irritated skin than powder versions.

How to apply Using your fingers, spread tinted moisturizer or foundation onto your face and blend with a clean makeup sponge. Be sure to smooth it over your jaw and down your neck so you don't look as if you're wearing a mask, suggests Jacobucci. Set by sweeping a sheer peach or bronze powder over your face to enhance your glow; try Sephora Radiant Loose Powder in a Brush in Natural Apricot ($18; sephora.com).

CREAM FOUNDATION can camouflage freckles on your hands and chest too.

YOUR GOAL reduce redness

The secret weapon A medium-to-full-coverage liquid foundation in a yellow-based shade will hide redness better than any concealer can, says Kashuk. Jane Iredale Liquid Minerals Foundation comes in 18 hues and contains soothing minerals.
